A. Golden   Georgia Tech

English 1102   Mrs. Dalloway Blog Prompt   Fall 2013
Due Friday October 4

In this posting you will return to the first sixty pages of Virginia Woolf's Mrs. Dalloway using the Mapping Mrs. Dalloway Project or the Google Map of Mrs. Dalloway's London. After having created maps of Jacob's Room, consider the design and efficacy of the maps and what light they shed on your consideration of the novel. Analyze at least one quotation from the first sixty pages of Mrs. Dalloway in your posting and consider how your interpretation differs in light of using the map. Your posting can focus in on a particular character or moment in the novel. You can also evaluate the maps and address what you would change or include.

You must analyze an image in your blog posting. Your image can be from a map, which you can capture using screen shot software or Jing.

Your blog posting should be at least 250 words and is due at least 30 minutes before class on Friday October 4th. Remember to cite all sources you consult.

You might also investigate the digital mapping of Mrs. Dalloway on youtube http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QRL9vlJ4Jso